The Medical Team.

All Doctors at South Coast Medical have satisfied the training requirements of the Royal Australian College of General Practitioners and are on the Vocational Register of General Practitioners. This means they are committed to general practice and to continuing medical education.

In addition to the six GP owners, there are more than 10 additional General Practitioners consulting regularly. South Coast Medical is a training facility for RACGP General Practice Registrars who are fully trained doctors specialising in general practice.

Doctors work predominately from one clinic, so please refer to the individual clinic information sheets for consultation times of the doctor of your choice.

On most occasions patients can access appointments with their doctor of choice, however from time to time this is not possible. During scheduled immunisation and script clinics it is not always possible to have your own doctor available. An alternative doctor will usually be provided.
